

Security Threats on Social Media

No encryption

Impersonation

Personal information becoming public

Sensitive data stored on your computer

Targeted malware

Facebook: Security Settings

Always use HTTPS

Login safely

- Secure password
- Login notifications
- Login approvals

Beware of malware

Remember security basics

- Login once, logout after
- Make sure you aren't on a fake Facebook site
- Don't trust apps

General Security Notifications Apps Mobile Payments

Security Settings

Secure Browsing  Browse Facebook on a secure connection (https) when possible

Save Changes Cancel

Login Approvals

Require me to enter a security code each time an unrecognized computer or device tries to access my account

Save Changes Cancel

Active Sessions

Current Session

Location: [redacted] (Approximate)

Device Type: [redacted]

If you notice any unfamiliar devices or locations, click 'End Activity' to end the session.

Session Initiated: Yesterday at 9:35pm End Activity

Application Name: Facebook for iPhone

Close

Facebook: Privacy Settings

Less is more

Beware defaults

Be a good friend

Know the policies

Check for changes

The screenshot shows the Facebook 'Edit Profile' page for a user named Shannon Coyne. The left sidebar contains navigation links for 'Basic Information', 'Profile Picture', 'Friends and Family', 'Education and Work', 'Philosophy', 'Arts and Entertainment', 'Sports', 'Activities and Interests', and 'Contact Information'. The main content area is for 'Basic Information' and includes fields for 'Current City', 'Hometown', 'I Am', 'Show my sex in my profile', 'Birthday', and 'Don't show my birthday in my profile'. A privacy dropdown menu is open over the 'Current City' field, showing options: Public, Friends (checked), Only Me, Custom, Close Friends, Limited Profile, Family, and See all lists...

Twitter Security

Privacy & Anonymity

- Who you are
- What you say
- Where you are
- How you connect

Tweet privacy  Protect my Tweets

HTTPS only  Always use HTTPS

Tweet location  Add a location to my Tweets

When you tweet with a location, Twitter stores it. You can switch location on/off before each Tweet.

Delete all location information

Consider the trade-offs

Country-Level Blocking Policy

“We believe the new, more granular approach to withheld content is a good thing for freedom of expression, transparency, accountability— and for our users.”

- Twitter Blog, 1/27/12

Tweet withheld

This Tweet from @Username has been withheld in: Country. Learn more

Change your country

Use creative language

Retweet

Google Privacy Policy

One profile

Information collection

Information sharing

“We may combine personal information from one service with information, including personal information, from other Google services...”

- Google Privacy Policy, 3/1/12

Google Privacy: What You Can Do

Don't stay logged in

Use different browsers

Check your settings

- Google Dashboard
- Ad preferences

Edit your profile

Use circles (Google+ feature)

YouTube & Google

Consider making a separate account just for YouTube

Google Settings

- 2 step authentication
- HTTPS

YouTube Settings

- Clear your History
- Consider what personal info you share
- Unlisted and Private Videos

Disconnect

Need Help?

If your account is compromised, try:

Report Compromised Account

---

If you believe your account has been compromised by another person or a virus, please click the "My Account Is Compromised" button below. We'll help you log back into your account so that you can regain control.

Report a violation

Hacked accounts, reporting spam, trademark violations, impersonation, safety...

 If your account has been compromised, please visit our Account Recovery page for further assistance.

If you still have trouble, contact us!